

Director of Communications

The Nueces River Authority is seeking a dynamic and results-oriented Director of Communications to lead our comprehensive communication strategy, ensuring consistent messaging across all internal and external channels, while aligning with our organizational goals and values. This position will oversee the development and execution of communication plans, manage media relations, and drive positive perception for the Authority. The Director will work in a leadership role on the communications side of the Authority to ensure the organization maintains a positive image by overseeing and approving any company information or announcements before they are published or released to the public. Successful candidate should have a strong set of written and verbal skills as well as problem-solving capabilities and be comfortable working within a team environment. The Authority offers a competitive salary commensurate with experience, benefits to include health insurance, vacation, holiday, and sick leave pay, and a retirement plan. To apply, send resume and cover letter to cgonzales@nueces-ra.org.
